

Principal's Message

October in Southern Alberta is a beautiful transition into fall, marked by stunning autumn colors and crisp, cooler temperatures. The foliage around us play vibrant hues of orange, yellow, and red, creating picturesque landscapes. It's a time when we start pulling out our cozy sweaters and enjoy pumpkin-spice-flavored everything! In addition to the natural beauty, October at CCH is synonymous with Friday Night Lights, midterm of quarter 1, and Santa's Anonymous fundraising endeavors. Moreover, with Thanksgiving right in the middle of the month, it is a time to be thankful for all of God's beautiful gifts.

As mentioned, we have reached the midterm of quarter 1 (October 2)! This means that we have had 20 days to settle into school routines and we have 20 more days to work toward completing quarter 1 classes. As such, it is important for students and parents/ guardians to be on top of attendance and progress in classes. Days on the quarter system move quickly so please, reach out to your child's teachers should there be any concern. Better yet, why not come and meet with your child's teachers on October 2 from 6:00-8:00 pm for Parent-Teacher-Student Conferences? This gives you the opportunity to not only meet your child's teacher(s) but also provides you with a chance to speak about your child's progress thus far. We believe that communication is key in supporting the success of your child! You should have received an invitation via email to create an account through School Conference Manager to book a conference time with your child's quarter 1 teacher(s).

We are also grateful for so many good and important events on the go and are extremely proud of the contributions our students are already making to what is shaping up to be a wonderful school year!

- ❖ Congratulations to Mr. Mulder, Mr. New, and the Girls Golf Team (Alexis, Sydney, Cait, and Lola) for a second place finish! And a special shout out to Tristan for his performance at ASAA Provincials.

- ❖ Students' Council rocked the house with an awesome welcome-back theme week!

- ❖ Our Cougar Football Team is well on its way to achieving the goals they have established to come back stronger and 1% better every day.

- ❖ All four of our volleyball teams are looking strong on the court and continue to bring home some hardware. For up-to-date schedules and results, please go to Prairie Sky Conference <https://psc.schoolsites.ca/> or find us on Instagram
- ❖ The Cross-Country team is up and running (pun intended).
- ❖ The Athletic Leadership Team has already accumulated many hours hosting gates and keeping score for both football and volleyball games.
- ❖ The Junior Prospects Hockey League hosted its first Lethbridge Showcase where many of the student body came out to cheer them on!
- ❖ Our Yearbook Team celebrated the distribution of last year's yearbook entitled: "Stellar Horizons."
- ❖ The Concert Choir and Band provided us with the gift of music at our Opening Mass.
- ❖ Other clubs are seeing excellent numbers and student engagement.
- ❖ Our staff and students are busy exploring our call to action for the second year of our faith plan - "Proclaim!" - and what this looks like at CCH.
- ❖ Oh, and did I mention that Robotics Club (with Mr. Rosen and Ms. Vuong) is already in its planning stages for world-domination... while Mrs. Christensen, Mr. Spiess, and Mr. New will be calling for those interested in sharing their time to the annual "Santa's Anonymous Project."

As you can see, there are so many opportunities for students to become part of the school community! I highly encourage all students to get involved in some way as it enhances their high-school experience AND is a great way to create memories.

So, although this message might seem early, I sincerely hope that you take a moment this month and/or during Thanksgiving to reflect upon what you are grateful for. God has certainly blessed us with so many gifts here at CCH! - Mrs. Polec

POLICY FOR BORROWING LIBRARY MATERIALS

Catholic Central High School has a policy to assist us in the return of materials borrowed during the school year. This system will benefit the students as the library has suffered real loss in the past with library books and textbooks not being returned or being returned damaged, which means they have to be replaced.

A Caution Fee of between $80 and $140 has been added to your school fees. Should a book not be returned, or returned damaged, the cost will be deducted from this fee. If the caution fee is insufficient, the student will be billed for the balance. All materials will have to be returned in good condition or the fee will be implemented. If all materials are returned, the caution fee will be refunded at the end of the school year. Materials returned after September 15, 2025 will not be refunded as the book will be determined to have been lost and a new book will have been purchased.

Please return all textbooks promptly at the end of each quarter. They are needed for other classes.

Note: We take every measure to ensure that the item signed out to you was indeed signed out to you. Please take care of these materials so that we can pass them on to other students in good condition.

If you have questions about what books you have signed out, contact Ms. Lavkulich at lavkulichj@holyspirit.ab.ca

If you have questions about the caution fee and how it is implemented, contact Mrs. Wilson at wilson@holyspirit.ab.ca

School Fees are now due.

The Holy Spirit School Division uses School Cash Online which provides you with the convenience of paying online for school items such as school fees, trips, co-curricular fees, etc. Go to

Greetings

CCH, my name is Ms. Monika Glassford and I'm very excited to be a part of your CCH school community. I am a new resident of Lethbridge and have spent the first few weeks of September settling in. I was born and raised in Northern Ontario but have spent many of my adult years exploring Alberta and British Columbia. In spring of 2023, I officially made the cross-country move to Alberta to join Jasper National Park's Initial Attack wildfire crew after 5 years of fighting wildfires in Ontario. Since, I have hung up my wildfire boots and decided to stay in Alberta to be with my partner and continue my teaching career. My Bachelor of Physical and Health Education and Bachelor of Education support me in my new role as a temporary Physical Education and Sports Medicine teacher here at CCH. I'm passionate about all things outdoors, yoga, photography and fitness. Looking forward to seeing you around!

Proclaim! Pilgrims of Hope

"In all created things discern the providence and wisdom of God, and in all things give Him thanks."
- St. Teresa of Avila

St. Teresa of Avila 1515-1582 (Feast Day: October 15)

St. Teresa of Avila, also known as St. Teresa of Jesus, is a saint and Doctor of the Church well known for her mysticism and writings on prayer. Born in the 1500s, her family was quite wealthy and religious; her and her younger brother even ran away in their youth seeking to be martyrs. Her medieval world was filled with tales of knights and religious education in her youth. At the age of 20, she entered a Carmelite convent and began reading more deeply about prayer, including reading from St. Augustine's Confessions. She began to have visions, to levitate, and to seek solitude, contemplation, and a more austere lifestyle. This led her to establish a new convent which followed more strict rules to encourage deeper piety. Aside from her time in prayer and writing, she spent much of her later life traveling to establish these reformed convents. She died in October 1582. As of August 2024, researchers and scientists have found that her body remains incorrupt.

St. Teresa is famous for her writings on prayer. Two of her well-known texts are The Way of Perfection and The Interior Castle. In The Way of Perfection, St. Teresa outlines four essential stages to prayer - devotion of the heart, peace, union, and ecstasy - using the analogy of a garden. The Interior Castle describes seven mansions (rooms or steps) which draw us closer to God. The rooms lead from active prayer to contemplation to mystical union with God. These works have heavily influenced many other Catholic saints and theologians, which led to her being named a Doctor of the Church in 1970. She is often depicted with a quill, representing her writing, and the dove, representing the influence of the Holy Spirit.

The Apostles' Creed

"I believe in God, the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth..."

The structure of the Apostles' Creed is itself a reflection of our belief in the Holy Trinity. The first section expresses our belief in God, followed by the second section which outlines our belief in Christ, and is concluded by the third section, which confirms our belief in the Holy Spirit. In the first section, we say "I believe in God, the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth..."

What do we profess about God when we proclaim the Apostles' Creed?

- We proclaim our belief in one God - in contrast to a belief in no God or many Gods - as a matter of faith.
- We speak of our relationship with God using the analogy of Father, using the same language that Jesus did in speaking with God and in teaching us the 'Our Father.' Jesus called God 'Abba' - a loving parental term to convey the intimacy of God with humanity. Our God is not an impersonal force or distant being.

- We proclaim our belief in one God - in contrast to a belief in no God or many Gods - as a matter of faith.
- We profess our God as Almighty - this word appears 56 times in scripture; it is used only for God with the literal meaning as 'the One who has his hand on everything.' All power and authority on earth derives from God, and God remains unchanging, eternal, and reliable. All things are possible with God.
- We understand that God is the creator of both our physical world and the spiritual realm. While we live in a created world that God constantly tends, in order to reach our full potential we seek relationship with the God who loves us. We are surrounded by the presence of God, who wants us to be here.

As we seek to become Pilgrims of Hope this year, let us contemplate the Creed, and how our proclamation of the Creed unites us to one another and to all Christians through time and space.

"Proclaiming" In Our Schools

For the first time, this year Catholic Education Week will be combined into one celebration with Catholic Education Sunday. From October 19-25, we will join with the rest of our provincial counterparts under the theme Testify! Share the Reason for Your Hope. This theme connects well to our own Faith Plan call to Proclaim! Each day, look for liturgies and videos that will be shared that explore aspects of the theme, and join in praying the Angelus at noon. The Angelus is an ancient prayer recalling the events of the Annunciation, when the angel Gabriel announced to Mary that she would conceive by the Holy Spirit and become the mother of God. The prayer honours Mary's great 'yes' to God; offered humbly, faithfully and obediently. Through this prayer we reflect upon and celebrate the great mystery of God sharing in our humanity, becoming one of us in the person of Jesus. This is a great opportunity to echo Mary's 'yes', and to proclaim our faith together!

Pope's Prayer Intentions - For A Shared Mission

For a shared mission - We pray that the Church continue to sustain in all ways a Synodal lifestyle, as a sign of co-responsibility, promoting the participation, the communion and the mission shared among priests, religious and lay people.

Gospel Readings

October 6, 2024

27th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Gospel Reading: Mark 10:2-16

"Let the children come to me: do not prevent them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these. Amen, I say to you, whoever does not accept the kingdom of God like a child will not enter it." — Mark 10:14-15

Jesus loved spending time with children, even though in his time and culture most people didn't think children were very important or special. He knew that adults have a lot to learn from children, like their playfulness, trust, and ability to love others, and he doesn't want children to ever stop being like that. Jesus challenged the adults to always approach him with the joy and excitement of children because living in God's way should be joyful and freeing, not always so serious and boring. God wants everyone to come to him eagerly, not because it's something we "should" do.

What do you think Jesus loves about you as a child?

For adults: How do you think you could become more childlike again?

Prayer:

Dear Lord, we want to come to you to love and be loved, without any reservations. Help us to surrender our hearts to you in a simple way.

28th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Gospel Reading: Mark 10:17-30

"Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, 'How hard it is for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God!'" — Mark 10:23

We may not consider ourselves wealthy people. But to most of the world, we are extremely wealthy. Once, a very poor man in Haiti said "If you eat everyday, you are rich." We put a lot of value on our "stuff," so much so that we begin putting our possessions before our desire to love and serve the Lord and one another. Jesus told the rich young man to sell what he owned and give to the poor. Practically speaking, Jesus probably isn't asking all of us to sell everything we have. However, we could start by looking at what our needs are and what our wants are. This can help us detach ourselves from our "stuff" and free us to attach ourselves to God and others.

As a family, what are our needs versus our wants? What can we do as a family to "let go" of the things we don't need?

Gospel Readings

October 20, 2024

29th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Gospel Reading: Mark 10:35-45

"Whoever wishes to great among you will be your servant; whoever wishes to be first among you will be slave of all." — Mark 10:43-44

In our world today, we often want to get good grades, be great at sports, be known as a good artist or musician, etc. In contrast, Jesus wasn't considered successful or accomplished. He grew up in a very small town as the son of a simple carpenter - which wasn't a very respected job. Jesus was looked down upon because of where he was from, he wasn't always admired, and he was constantly questioned. Yet he taught that it is better to be last than to be first, and to be a servant than to be the one who is served. It may not be easy to follow that example, but our faith calls us to live our lives for others as Jesus did.

There are a lot of people in our lives who "serve" us, even if they aren't our slaves: waiters, cashiers, garbage truck drivers, gardeners, babysitters, janitors, etc. How can we treat them with respect rather than treating them like servants? What can we do to be a servant to someone else this week?

Prayer:

Dear Lord, we are sorry for the times when we try to be better than those around us. Please help us to be less concerned with ourselves, and learn to put others' needs before our own.

...and whoever gives even a cup of cold water to one of these little ones in the name of a disciple—truly I tell you, none of these will lose their reward.

— Matthew 10:42

October 27, 2024

30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Gospel Reading: Mark 10:46-52

"Jesus told him, 'Go on your way; your faith has saved you.'" — Mark 10:52

In the Gospel story today we learn it is okay to ask Jesus for what we want. After all, Jesus asked the blind man "What do you want me to do for you?" The blind man got exactly what he asked for; he got his sight. Sometimes we don't get exactly what we ask for and it may be awhile before we understand why God didn't seem to answer our prayer. Other times, we may get what we asked for, but it comes in a different way than we imagined it would. God cares about us and wants what is best for us and sometimes that means not giving us what we think we want. It's like a parent who won't feed their child donuts every day for breakfast even if that's what the child asks for because the parent knows it's not good for the child. Keep asking God for what you need, and trust that he knows what is best for you.

When I pray, do I find myself praying only for my own concerns or do I also pray for those around me who have greater needs? (e.g. the poor and forgotten)

Prayer:

Dear Lord, teach me how to pray in a way that doesn't only ask for what I want, but that will teach me what you want for me.

THANKSGIVING

Gracious God,
on this day of thanks,
we humbly gather
to express our gratitude.
For the bounty that graces
our tables, we offer thanks.
For the love that unites our hearts, we offer thanks.
For the challenges that make us stronger, we offer thanks.
Bless us with wisdom to cherish these gifts and share with those in need.
May this spirit of thankfulness
resonate through our lives,
today and always.
Amen.
